

Bravely decked, come forth, bright day Thomas Campion

Cantus

Brave- ly deck'd come forth bright day, Thine hours with Brit- ons fro- lic at your board, But first sing Death had en- ter'd in the gate, And ru- in God His peace- ful mon- arch chose, To him the

Altus

Tenor

Bassus

5

ro- ses strew thy way, As they well re- mem- ber.
 prais- es to the Lord In your con- gre- ga- tions.
 was crept near the state; But heav'n all re- veal- ed.
 mist He did dis- close, To him, and none o- ther;

10

Thou re- ceiv'd shalt be with feasts, Come chief- est
 He pre- serv'd your state a- lone, His lov- ing
 Fie- ry pow- der hell did make, Which rea- dy
 This He did, O king, for thee, That thou thine of the Bri-ish guests, Thou fifth of No- vember.

 grace hath made you one Of His cho- sen na- tions.
 long the flame to take, Lay in shade con- ceal- ed.
 own re- nown might'st see, Which no time can smo- ther;

15

Thou with tri- umph shalt ex- ceed In the strict- est em- ber;
 But this light must hal- low'd be With your best ob- la- tions;
 God us help'd of His free grace, None to Him ap- peal- ed;
 May bless'd Charles thy com- fort be Firm- er than his bro- ther,

20

For by thy re- turn the Lord re- cords His bless- ed deed.
 Praise the Lord, for on- ly great and mer- ci- ful is He.
 For none was so bad to fear the trea- son of the place.
 May his heart the love of peace, and wis- dom learn from thee.