

In Sherwood lived stout Robin Hood

Robert Jones

In Sher- wood liv'd stout Ro- bin
 A no- ble thief was Ro- bin
 An out- law was this Ro- bin
 Now wend we home, stout Ro- bin

Hood, An arch- er great, none great- er, His bow and shafts were Hood, Wise was he could de- ceive him; Yet Mar- ian in his Hood, His life free and un- ru- ly; Yet to fair Mar- ian Hood, Leave we the woods be- hind us. Love pas- sions must not sure and good, Yet Cu- pid's - were much bet- ter. Ro- bin could brav- est mood Could of his - heart be- reave him. No great- er bound he stood, And love's debt - paid her du- ly. Whom curb of be with- stood, Love ev- 'ry - where will find us. I liv'd in shoot at ma- ny a heart and miss; Cu- pid at first could hit a thief lies hid- den - un- der skies; Than Beau- ty close- ly lodg'd in strict- est law could - not hold in, Love Beau- ty close- ly lodg'd in field and town and - so did he; I got me to the woods; Love
