

2. Thou pretty bird

John Danyel

The musical score consists of five staves of music for lute and voice. The top staff shows a treble clef, common time, and a key signature of one sharp. The lyrics are:

Thou pret- ty bird, how do I see thy sil- ly state and mine ag- ree.

The second staff begins with a bass clef, common time, and a key signature of one sharp. The lyrics are:

For thou a pri- so- ner art; so is my heart. Thou sing'st to her and so do I ad- dress my

The third staff continues in common time with a bass clef and one sharp. The lyrics are:

mu- sic to her ear, that's mer- ci- less. But here- in doth, here- in doth

The fourth staff begins in common time with a bass clef and one sharp. The lyrics are:

the dif- fer- ence lie: that thou art grac'd, so am not I. Thou, sing- ing,

The fifth staff begins in common time with a bass clef and one sharp. The lyrics are:

liv'st, sing- ing, sing- ing, sing- ing, liv'st, and I must, sing- ing, die, but die.

Below each staff is a corresponding tablature staff, showing the fingerings and strumming patterns for the lute. Measure numbers 10 and 15 are indicated above the third and fourth staves respectively.
